Captcha was an issue. I couldn't remember my old login, maybe a recovery option?

Do you have any additional critiques or suggestions about how things operated?

I'll be happy to try version 2.0

If your forms have required answers, what if I didn't get to that point, so I couldn't answer?

Not yet. Looks really good so far!

Do you have any additional critiques or suggestions about how things operated?

Did it just time out on me?? Will the login work again?

Fonts were sometimes hard to read. Also, Comic Sans... don't do that.

If possible, I would suggest making NPCs available to add to a encounter. That way I don't need to re-create it every time.
